“I never thought mediation could work for me in this situation. But it did and I felt good about the process and results.” R. Johnston, Lewiston

Mediation supports people to become clearer about their issues, needs and goals and then work together to create a mutually satisfactory resolution.

Mediators, as a neutral third party, help people to “listen to understand and speak to be heard”.

If you think you’ve tried everything and you still need help, contact us to learn more about mediation.

Make a Difference

How the Mediation Process works...

- ◆ Call or email us and together we’ll decide if mediation is right for you.
- ◆ We’ll set up a time and place for everyone to meet.
- ◆ We’ll identify the issues and look for common ground.
- ◆ At the end, we’ll help you write up an agreement that meets everyone’s needs.

“I was so worried and you made it easy. Mediation was new to me but I am sold! Thank you.”
S. Todd, Augusta
